

Create Person class with id, name, identity, dob and inherits it using Account class which have accountNumber and balance attribute. The account class should have additional methods which are deposit and withdraw which take balance as a parameter. The amount to deposit should be positive and the amount to withdraw should be NOT greater than the available balance. Create a BankingApp class with the main method to test the deposit and withdraw methods of the Account class.